2 SOFTWARE LICENSE

2.1 Software License. The Software is licensed to You pursuant to this Agreement, not sold. You have purchased a license to use the Software pursuant to this Agreement, and therefore You do not own the Software. Except as expressly provided herein, You agree and acknowledge that this license Agreement does not grant and shall not be construed as granting You any claim to ownership, title or interest in or to the Miller Materials. All license rights not expressly granted to You are reserved by and to Miller.

2.2 License Grant. Miller grants You a non-sublicensable, non-exclusive, non-transferable, limited license to Install and use machine-readable object code copies of the Software and User Documentation in Your Territory, only for purposes of configuring and monitoring welding equipment and capturing welding data, all of the foregoing for Your internal use only, in accordance with the applicable User Documentation and within the scope of the License Parameters. Any of Customer’s employees may use the installed Software, provided, however, that their use of the Software in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall always remain Customer’s sole responsibility. Customer shall be liable for any use of the Software by its employees in violation of the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Miller’s license grant (and, with that grant, Your right to Install and use the Software and User Documentation) is conditioned on Your continuous compliance with all license limitations, restrictions and other terms in this Agreement. If You violate any of these limitations, restrictions or other terms, the license grant will automatically and immediately terminate. Any usage of the Software or User Documentation outside the scope of the applicable license grant or otherwise not in accordance with this Agreement constitutes a violation and infringement of Miller’s intellectual property rights as well as a material breach of this Agreement. No license is granted under the terms of this Agreement if You did not lawfully acquire the Software from Miller or from a third party authorized by Miller to supply the Software or Miller Materials either directly or indirectly.

2.3 License Parameters. Miller’s license grant is subject to one or more of the License Parameters defined in this Section 2.3 (License Parameters) as specified in the User Documentation. Unless Miller expressly specifies or agrees otherwise in the User Documentation, all Software shall be governed solely by the license for Stand-alone (Individual) Versions set forth below in Section 2.3.1.

2.3.1 Stand-alone Seat License (Individual) Version. If Miller identifies the Software as a “Stand-alone Version” or as an “Individual Version” or “Individual Seat License” or if the purchasing documentation, invoice or purchase order from Miller does not identify the Software as a “Multi-seat (Site) Version”, You may only Install and Access one (1) copy of the Software on one (1) individual Computer, solely for Your internal business needs. You may not allow the Software to be Accessed, operated, or viewed from, or Installed or uploaded to, other Computers through any electronic, digital or network connection (except from another licensed Computer). Except as otherwise explicitly permitted by Miller, You are not authorized to Install or Access the Software other than on one (1) Computer at a time.

2.3.2 Multi-Seat (Site) Version. If the Miller purchasing documentation, invoice or purchase order identifies the purchased Software as a “Multiseat (Site) Version”, You may Install and Access the Permitted Number of purchased copies of the Software on (i) a number of individual Computers that equals the number of purchased copies of the Software, (ii) only at the single Customer Site designated in the Miller Software purchasing documentation, invoice or purchase order and (iii) solely for Your internal business needs. You are not authorized to Install, Access, operate or view from or Install or upload the Software to a Customer Computer where the total number of Customer Computers having the Software Installed on them at the Customer Site exceeds the number of purchased Software copies specified in the Software purchasing documentation, invoice or purchase order. You are not authorized to allow the Software to be Accessed, operated or viewed from, or Installed or uploaded to, other Computers through an electronic, digital or network connection at locations not at the Customer Site, except as otherwise permitted by Miller in writing.

2.3.3 License Term. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and/or Section 2.4 (Termination), the license to use the Software is perpetual.

2.4 Termination. Without prejudice to any other rights, Miller may terminate this Agreement if You fail to comply with the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Upon termination of the license grant or this Agreement, (i) You must immediately cease any and all use of Miller Materials and Uninstall all copies of the Software; and (ii) destroy all Miller Materials or, upon request by Miller, return all Miller Materials to Miller or the company from which they were acquired. Miller reserves the right to require You to provide satisfactory written proof that all copies of the Software have been Uninstalled and all Miller Materials have been destroyed or returned to Miller.

You will ensure that the backup copy replicates and includes any trademark, copyright, attribution or other proprietary or restrictive marking or legend appearing on or used in conjunction with the Software. You may Install and Access such backup copy of the Software only in the event that the primary copy of the Software becomes inoperable and You are otherwise unable to Access the Software.
